RESEARCH INTERESTS

CLINICAL RESEARCH SCIENCE INTERESTS

- Morbid obesity physiology
- Cytoreduction for liver tumors
- Oncology in GI surgery
- Laparoscopic for GI surgery
- GI Cancer and obesity
- Pancreatic Pseudocysts
- Quality of Care in Surgery
- Sleeve gastrectomy for morbid obesity
- Alternative surgery for morbid obesity

BASIC SCIENCE INTERESTS

- Translational science in GI cancer
- Immunotherapy for liver tumor
- Incretins for diabetes type II in morbid obesity
- New tumor marker

HEALTH CARE INTERESTS

- Managerial economics of the bariatric patient
- Economic losses in society for post-weight-loss surgery patients
- Healthcare economics
- Financial incentive plans for academic practices
- The physician: The new manager
- Opening a physician practice after surgical residency
- The role of the Surgery Division Chief in the Economy of Academic Departments
- Decision making for savvy finance

EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH ACTIVITIES

1. Basic skills in laparoscopy
2. Correlation between surgery residents' cognitive knowledge and laparoscopic technical skills
3. Residency endoscopic training for the next generation of rural surgeons
4. Financial structure of an academic practice
5. Engineering and structuring the ER for a weapons of mass destruction terrorist attack with the Department of Engineering at Texas Tech University

PROJECTS AND STUDIES

RESEARCH PROJECTS

Investigators in Research

1. NIH R1; 09/01/03–Present – Eldo Frezza (co-PI), Maurizio Chiriva-Internati, PhD (PI); Identification of novel tumor proteins for tumor biology research in solid and hematological malignancies
2. NCI R01 CA1027721-01¹; 07/01/03-06/30/08 – Eldo Frezza, MD (co-PI), Maurizio Chiriva-Internati, PhD (PI); New gene delivery system by AAV-DC in ovarian cancer. Priority score: 2.38; $250,000 (TDC), $1,250,000 (TDC)
3. DoD # OC030135; 01/10/01-01/01/06 – Eldo Frezza, MD (co-PI), Maurizio Chiriva-Internati, PhD (PI); Cancer testis a novel antigens as a possible tumor vaccine in ovarian cancer. Priority score: 2.2; $153,000 (annual direct cost), $459,000 (TDC)
4. ACS # RSG LIB-108795; 01/01/05-01/01/09 – Eldo Frezza, MD (co-PI), Maurizio Chiriva-Internati, PhD (PI); Cancer testis a novel target for immunotherapy of ovarian cancer. Priority score: In review. $229,000 (annual direct cost), $919,000 (TDC)
5. ASBS – Eldo Frezza (PI); Role of incretins in diabetes type II in the morbid obese patient.
6. NIH R1; 09/03-Present – Eldo Frezza (co-PI); Genoma Transfection in GI Cancers

ONGOING STUDIES

1. Alternative surgery in morbid obese patients
2. Physiology in obese patients
3. Therapeutic management algorithm in cirrhotic and non-cirrhotic patients in primary or secondary liver masses
4. Surgical motor skills and surgical test knowledge skills in surgical residency
5. Chronic compartment syndrome in the obese patient
6. Residency endoscopic training for the next generation of rural surgeons
7. Radiofrequency ablation for liver tumor treatment
8. The role of angiographic embolization in bleeding liver
9. Marginal ulceration after gastric bypass in the morbid obese
10. Laparoscopic liver resection
11. Deep venous thrombosis in the morbid obese
12. Management of trauma in the obese population
13. Small bowel obstruction after gastric bypass
14. Cytoreduction for liver tumor with immunotherapy
15. Pancreatic Pseudocyst treatments
16. Obesity and GI cancers
17. New markers for liver tumors
18. Association of liver tumor and steatohepatitis
19. Staging gastric cancer
20. Pancreatic cancer risk factors

INNOVATIONS IN EDUCATION

April 2006

Setting up a minimally invasive basic skills lab

August 2004

Endoscopic training for rural surgeons

May 2004

Therapeutic Management Algorithm in Cirrhotic and Non-Cirrhotic Patients in Primary or Secondary Liver Masses

Texas Ranger Medical Corps West Texas Regional Commander: To set a plan for regional defense in case of a terrorist attack

Pre-approval for Bariatric Center of Excellence

March 2004

New Concepts of Physiology in Obese Patients

January 2004

Surgical resident cognitive knowledge

June 2001

New treatment for diabetes type II

April 2000–April 2001

Laparoscopic Hands-On Workshops: University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, PA

transplantation research

GRANTS

January 2006: President Research award. Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center; Lubbock, Texas

August 2004: Neely Treadwell Cancer Investigator award; Southwest Cancer Center; Lubbock, Texas

October 2003: Cytoreduction for unresectable or partially resectable and metastatic hepatic tumors with a combination of radiofrequency and immunotherapy ablation plus hepatic arterial infusion chemotherapy

July 2003: Treatment for type II diabetes mellitus in morbid obesity

April 2003: TTUHSC grant to study insulin resistance and hormonal and metabolic substrate responses to bariatric surgery in non-insulin dependent, diabetic, morbidly obese patients

May 2000: University of Pittsburgh grant to study laparoscopic liver resection in large animals

January 1994: S. Maccherone Foundation grant to complete studies on small bowel transplantation at the University of Pittsburgh

April 1992: Italian National Research Institute grant to complete studies on post-transplant infection at the University of Birmingham; Birmingham, England

January 1992: Boncompagni – Ludovisi Swedish Foundation grant to study small bowel transplantation at the University of Pittsburgh

January 1992: Italian National Research Institute grant to study short bowel syndrome at the University of Pittsburgh

November 1991: Rotary International Foundation grant to study transplant surgery at the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center

December 1989: Italian National Research Institute grant for best surgical resident of the year

July 1989: National grant to study transplant surgery at the University of Innsbruck; Innsbruck, Austria

Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center

October 2004

Identification of novel tumor proteins for tumor biology research in solid and hematological malignancies
Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center

April 2004-November 2004

Patient satisfaction and quality of life after surgery for morbidly obese patients
Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center

December 2003

Insulin resistance and hormonal and metabolic substrate responses to bariatric surgery in non-insulin dependent morbidly obese patients
Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center

Control of gastroesophageal reflux disease with the Roux-en-Y gastric bypass and to demonstrate the absence of acid-producing cells in the gastric pouch after surgery

CLINICAL TRIALS

January 2006

NSABP Protocol C-09

Eldo E. Frezza (PI): A phase III clinical trial comparing Oxaliplatin, Capecitabine and hepatic arterial infusion of Floxuridine to Oxaliplatin and Capecitabine in patients with resected or ablated liver metastases from colorectal cancer
